STAINLESS STEEL HOPPERS

Roura manufacturers many of its standard hopper sizes and designs with stainless steel bodies. The material of choice is usually an austenitic stainless steel body with a hot dipped galvanized mild steel base. As an option, the bases can be painted or epoxy coated. Roura is one of a very few self-dumping hopper manufacturers that specializes in this option. The product has special appeal in the chemical and food and beverage industries. Roura custom produces these hoppers to your requirements.
